Foundational Courses

US History I
US History II

One of the Two Sequences*:

Western History Survey I
Western History Survey II

OR

World History Survey I
World History Survey II

*Students intending to transfer to the following institutions should note these exceptions:

- Framingham State University: Transfer students must take either US History I or US History II and one course from either the Western History Survey or World History Survey sequence.
- Fitchburg State University: Transfer students must complete the World History Survey sequence.
- Westfield State University: Transfer students will be required to complete the third sequence of history courses upon transferring to WSU. A student may substitute the 6-credit World History sequence for the western civilization sequence requirement (WSU HIST 0101 & 0102) upon request to the Chair of the History Department after enrollment. However, this course substitution will not count toward general education core requirements in Diversity.

The goal of the meeting was to have system-wide agreement on what the foundational courses are for the first two years of study in the discipline and a commitment that our campuses will accept these courses and count them towards the baccalaureate degree. Transfer professionals also attended the meeting and provided insight on a number of issues.

Elena Quiroz-Livanis, Academic Policy and Project Coordinator, presented on the Academic Transfer Pathways and shared next steps. The PowerPoint can be accessed here:

<http://www.slideshare.net/massdhe/2015-0310-academic-transfer-pathways-guided-pathways-to-success-revised>.

Some four-year campuses noted that due to the nature of the program at their institutions, transfer students should follow a specific sequence, which has been noted above. Four-year campuses agreed that they would allow World History Survey I and World History Survey II courses to transfer as Western History Survey I and Western History Survey II (Note: This does not guarantee satisfaction of general education requirements at individual institutions). However, there was also a consensus that Western History I and II would not universally transfer as World History I and II.

It should be noted on the website that in the case where a World History Survey III is offered and it satisfies the core course components of World History Survey II, therefore making it eligible for transfer, a student would only be able to transfer one of the courses and have it count as World History Survey II. The second course would count either as a general or history elective, depending on the institution.

Disciplinary Segmental Leaders requested that faculty submit syllabi for the foundational courses prior to the meeting in order to conduct a review that would allow them to identify core course components. During the meeting, faculty agreed on the core components for US History I, US History II, Western History Survey I, Western History Survey II, World History Survey I, and World History Survey II.

Following this exercise, faculty discussed community college course alignment. They agreed that a course which covers at least 50% of the topics in the core course components sheet, it would be considered appropriate for transfer into a History major. The components are not necessarily in order of importance, nor does a course need to be organized chronologically to be eligible for transfer. However, faculty agreed that in the World History surveys (both I and II), the nonwestern perspective must be primary in order for four-year schools to accept the courses to meet a world history requirement. Courses that do not privilege a global perspective may or may not be eligible for History credits at the survey level when the receiving institution accepts only World (not Western) History. Courses that meet the core components criteria for all three survey sequences are listed in the Community College Course Alignment sheet.

Faculty expressed an interest in sharing the syllabi used during the meeting could be shared. They have been asked to use the Yammer site to upload their syllabi. To join Yammer, please visit:
